BOTANICAL CAST GLASS

Botanical cast glass

*This collection has been developed by melting glass over botanic matter.
Each piece is unique and can also be treated to reflect a silver, bronze or satin finish.*

Decorum Est Showroom - 568 Kings Road, London

'Spring' is a series of glass panels which go through a process that resembles a mini ice age with glacial movement in the kiln. The glass surface gathers a record of visual information from the texture where it travelled.

MODERNE

Moderne

Created using eco friendly materials of water based stone composite, the Moderne collection is a contemporary range of tile designs that are both visually stunning and highly durable for floors and walls.

Shagreen

These tiles draw inspiration from the natural shagreen texture. The high quality of the materials used in this design provide a highly durable surface ideal for wet rooms or hardwearing floors, while still creating a luxurious ambience.

PIETRA DURA

Pietra Dura

Private Residence - London, Paisley floor

Pietra Dura ('hard stone' in Italian) is the inlay technique of semi precious hard stones to form images. The technique flourished especially during the Medici period in Florence. At Decorum Est, we've created a wide range of designs which reflect the timeless quality of the technique. We also combine it with the Pietra Tenera ('soft stone') technique to create exquisite floors, wall panels and furniture surfaces.

Passion Flower

Using the classical pietra dura intarsio technique which can be found in St Peter's Basilica floors, the passion flower motif draws inspiration from Ottoman designs found inside the magnificent Topkapi Palace in Istanbul.
